1 | TO: ALL PARTIES AND THEIR ATTORNEYS OF RECORD

2 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE on August 21, 2013 at 2:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as this 3 matter may be heard by and before the Honorable Phyllis J. Hamilton, United States District
4 Judge, at the United States Courthouse, Oakland Courthouse, Courtroom 3, 3rd Floor, 1301 Clay
5 Street, Oakland, California 94612, Plaintiffs Desiree Stephenson, Marni Haber, and Karva Tam 6 (“Plaintiffs”), on behalf of the proposed Class (defined herein) will and hereby do move for an 7 award of attorneys’ fees, and the reimbursement of costs and expenses. This motion is based 8 upon the Memorandum of Points and Authorities in Support of Class Counsel’s Motion for an 9 Award of Attorneys’ Fees and Reimbursement of Costs and Expenses, the Declaration of Mark 10 Todzo in Support thereof, submitted herewith, the Stipulation of Settlement dated December 20, 11 2012, and all other pleadings and matters of record.

MEMORANDUM OF LAW

13 | I. INTRODUCTION

14 As detailed in Plaintiffs' accompanying Brief in Support of Final Approval of Proposed 15 Class Settlement ("Final Approval Brief"), the Stipulation of Settlement ("Settlement")¹ entered 16 into with Defendant Neutrogena Corporation. ("Neutrogena" or "Defendant") in this action 17 represents a manifestly favorable outcome for the Class Members,² particularly when judged in 18 the context of the meaningful litigation risks attendant in this action. As is more fully set forth 19 herein and in Plaintiffs' Final Approval Brief, the requested Fee Award is fair and reasonable.
20 Therefore, Plaintiffs and Class Counsel respectfully request that their application for an award of 21 attorneys' fees and costs and approval of incentive awards be granted.

22 II. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY OF THE LITIGATION

23 Defendant Neutrogena is a manufacturer, seller, and distributor of a line of skincare

¹ The Settlement is attached as Exhibit 1 to the Declaration of Mark Todzo in Support of Plaintiffs' Motion for Preliminary Approval of Proposed Class Settlement Agreement. ECF No. 45-1.

² Unless otherwise specified, all capitalized terms are defined in the Settlement and have the same meaning herein.

1 products known as Neutrogena Naturals (the “Products”), which are sold to consumers across the 2 nation, including in California. Plaintiffs allege that they were induced to purchase the Products 3 by Neutrogena’s representations and claims that the Products are natural; in fact, Plaintiffs 4 allege, the Products contain various artificial and synthetic ingredients. Plaintiffs further allege 5 that certain statements made by Neutrogena in marketing and advertising the Products, including 6 that they contain “[n]o harsh chemical sulfates, parabens, petrochemicals, dyes, phthalates,” are 7 false and misleading. Plaintiffs seek to represent a class of persons throughout the United States 8 who, like themselves, purchased the Products at a price premium, erroneously believing them to 9 be natural based on Neutrogena’s representations. The primary objectives of Plaintiffs’ case are 10 to: (1) require Neutrogena to halt its allegedly deceptive marketing and advertising practices 11 (thereby protecting consumers in the future); and (2) to disgorge the premiums it allegedly 12 obtained as a result of its misrepresentations (thereby compensating consumers for past 13 wrongdoings).

14 On January 26, 2012, Plaintiff Desiree Stephenson filed a Complaint against Neutrogena
 15 in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California. The Complaint alleged: (1) 16 violations of California’s Unfair Competition Law (“UCL”), Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §17200, et seq.; California’s False Advertising Law (“FAL”), Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §17500, et seq.; and 18 California’s Consumers Legal Remedies Act (“CLRA”), Cal. Civ. Code §1750, et seq.; and (2) 19 breach of express warranty with regard to four Neutrogena Naturals “cleanser” products: the 20 Purifying Facial Cleanser, Purifying Pore Scrub, Face and Body Bar, and Fresh Cleansing +
 21 Makeup Remover. On March 28, 2012, Plaintiff Stephenson filed a First Amended Complaint
 22 alleging the same causes of action, but adding two additional Neutrogena Naturals “moisturizer”
 23 products: the Multi-Vitamin Nourishing Night Cream and Multi-Vitamin Nourishing 24 Moisturizer.

25 On July 27, 2012, the Court granted in part and denied in part Neutrogena’s Motion to 26 Dismiss, dismissing claims as to the five Products that Plaintiff Stephenson did not purchase and 27 striking Plaintiff Stephenson’s prayer for injunctive relief insofar as she did not adequately allege 28 a risk of future injury. However, the Court gave Plaintiff Stephenson leave to file an amended

1 complaint to add allegations that she intends to purchase Neutrogena Naturals Products in the 2 future if the alleged misrepresentations are corrected. On October 26, 2012, Plaintiffs filed a 3 Second Amended Complaint adding these allegations, and also adding Marni Haber and Karva 4 Tam – two California residents who purchased the Products under the misguided belief that they 5 were natural and contained no petrochemicals – as named Plaintiffs and putative Class
 6 representatives. Neutrogena filed an Answer to that Second Amended Complaint on November 7 9, 2012.

8 Even prior to the Court’s July 27, 2012 Order on Neutrogena’s Motion to Dismiss, the 9 parties had begun discussions regarding the underlying factual allegations and potential 10 settlement options. On August 7, 2012, the parties participated in settlement mediation with the 11 Honorable Edward A. Panelli (Retired). During the course of the mediation session and 12 thereafter, Neutrogena provided Plaintiffs with vital information pertinent to the legitimacy and 13 scope of Plaintiffs’ claims, including sworn statements to Plaintiffs confirming the composition 14 and labeling of the Neutrogena Naturals products and the number of products sold to date. These 15 discussions and the mediation resulted in the settlement terms discussed below. Although 16 Neutrogena has numerous defenses to the underlying allegations and the basis for certifying the 17 Class, in recognition of the risks of the litigation and the certain, significant costs of defending it, 18 Neutrogena agreed to a settlement that will provide valuable benefits to Class Members.

19 III. AWARD OF ATTORNEYS’ FEES

20 A. The Settlement Terms

21 The Settlement resolves the claims alleged in the Second Amended Complaint and 22 includes all persons throughout the United States who purchased one or more of Defendant 23 Neutrogena’s Products, at any time from January 1, 2011 and April 22, 2013 (the “Class 24 Period”). See Settlement at ¶ I.A.14. The Settlement has an injunctive component and a 25 monetary component, and each form of relief provides a distinct benefit to the Class.

26 1. Injunctive Relief

27 First, in settlement of Plaintiffs’ and the Class’s claims, Neutrogena has agreed to change 28 the labeling and, where applicable, packaging of all Products. See Settlement at ¶ III.A.1. In

1 order to cure any misperception that the Products are all-natural, Neutrogena will include a 2 statement regarding the exact percentage of the Product that is naturally derived on the front of 3 the labels and/or packages of each Product. Id. In addition, Neutrogena will remove the term
 4 “petrochemicals” from the statement “No harsh chemical sulfates, parabens, petrochemicals, 5 dyes, phthalates” on the Product labels in order to cure the alleged misrepresentation resulting 6 from Plaintiffs’ contention that the Products contain petrochemical residues. Id.

7 2. Monetary Relief

8 Second, the parties have agreed that Neutrogena will pay $1,300,000 (the “Claim Fund”)
 9 for distribution to Class Members who submit a valid Claim Form. Id. at ¶43. Class Members 10 can submit a claim for up to $1 per “cleanser” Product purchased during the Class Period and $2 11 per “moisturizer” Product purchased during the Class Period up to a maximum of $10. Id. at 12 ¶48. Thus, Class Counsel have secured a common fund recovery for the Class based on a fully 13 compensable purchase price to be paid to Class Members, subject to pro rata reduction since the 14 aggregate claims exceed the Claim Fund. See Settlement at ¶ III.B.2(d). In addition, Neutrogena
 15 has agreed to pay attorneys’ fees and expenses awarded by the Court up to $500,000. Neutrogena 16 will pay the attorneys’ fees and expenses in addition to and apart from the Claim Fund. In total, 17 Neutrogena has made $1,800,000 available in the Settlement.

18 Given the inherent risks in litigating a damages class in this case, this benefit is highly 19 significant. Thus, as permitted under the Settlement, Plaintiffs and Class Counsel requests 20 attorneys’ fees and costs of $500,000, which represents 28% of the funds made available in the 21 Settlement (the “Fee Award”). See Settlement at ¶ VIII.A.1-6. In achieving the injunctive and 22 monetary relief in this matter, Class Counsel worked 963.7 hours, all on a contingency basis with 23 no guarantee of success or ever being paid. See Declaration of Mark Todzo (“Todzo Decl.”) at 24 ¶¶22, Exhibit 6; Declaration of Daryl F. Scott (“Scott Decl.”) at ¶3. The requested Fee Award 25 reflects the risk taken by Class Counsel, as well as the estimable results achieved. When 26 utilizing this Circuit’s preferred method of contingency-fee determination – percentage of the 27 fund with a lodestar cross-check – it is abundantly clear that the requested fee not only is 28 reasonable, but also is well within the range of fees awarded in similar contingency cases.

1 B. The Legal Standards Governing the Award of Attorneys' Fees in 2 Common Fund Cases Support the Requested Award

3 1. A Reasonable Percentage of the Fund Recovered Is the 4 Appropriate Method for Awarding Attorneys' Fees in 5 Common Fund Cases

6 For their efforts in creating a common fund for the benefit of the Class, Class Counsel 7 seek a reasonable percentage of the fund recovered as attorneys' fees. The percentage method of 8 awarding fees has become an accepted, if not the prevailing, method for awarding fees in 9 common fund cases in this Circuit and throughout the United States. Indeed, the Fee Award 10 requested here provides no multiplier as Class Counsel requests a fee less than its lodestar.

11 It has long been recognized in equity that "a private plaintiff, or his attorney, whose 12 efforts create, discover, increase or preserve a fund to which others also have a claim is entitled 13 to recover from the fund the costs of his litigation, including attorneys' fees." Vincent v. Hughes 14 Air W., Inc., 557 F.2d 759, 769 (9th Cir. 1977). The purpose of this doctrine is to avoid unjust 15 enrichment so that "those who benefit from the creation of the fund should share the wealth with 16 the lawyers whose skill and effort helped create it." In re Wash. Pub. Power Supply Sys. Sec.
17 Litig., 19 F.3d 1291, 1300 (9th Cir. 1994) ("WPPSS"). This rule, known as the common fund 18 doctrine, is firmly rooted in American case law. See, e.g., Trustees v. Greenough, 105 U.S. 527
19 (1881); Cent. R.R. & Banking Co. of Ga. v. Pettus, 113 U.S. 116 (1885).³

20 In Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 900 n.16 (1984), the Supreme Court recognized that 21 "under the 'common fund doctrine'" a reasonable fee may be based "on a percentage of the fund

22 ³ In Paul, Johnson, Alston & Hunt v. Graulty, 886 F.2d 268 (9th Cir. 1989), the 23 Ninth Circuit explained the principle underlying fee awards in common fund cases:

24 Since the Supreme Court's 1885 decision in Central Railroad & Banking Co. of 25 Ga. v. Pettus, 113 U.S. 116 (1885), it is well settled that the lawyer who creates a 26 common fund is allowed an extra reward, beyond that which he has arranged with 27 his client, so that he might share the wealth of those upon whom he has conferred 28 a benefit. The amount of such a reward is that which is deemed "reasonable" under the circumstances.

29 Id. at 271 (emphasis in original).

1 bestowed on the class.”⁴ In this Circuit, the district court has discretion to award fees in 2 common fund cases based on either the so-called lodestar/multiplier method or the percentage-3 of-the-fund method. WPPSS, 19 F.3d at 1296. In Paul, Johnson, 886 F.2d 268, Six (6) Mexican 4 Workers v. Ariz. Citrus Growers, 904 F.2d 1301 (9th Cir. 1990), Torrisi v. Tucson Elec. Power
 5 Co., 8 F.3d 1370 (9th Cir. 1993), and Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043 (9th Cir.
 6 2002), the Ninth Circuit expressly approved the use of the percentage method in common fund 7 cases.

8 2. The Injunctive Relief Obtained for the Class Provides an Independent Basis for the Fee Award

9 The Settlement requires Neutrogena to provide significant non-monetary relief which, 10 while not readily quantifiable, provides real value to the Class. As discussed in Plaintiffs’ 11 accompanying Final Approval Brief, the injunctive relief will fully remedy Defendant’s alleged 12 misrepresentations by requiring it to place the actual percentage of natural ingredients on the 13 front label and removing the statement that the Products contain no petrochemicals.

14 The presence of non-quantifiable injunctive relief is “a ‘relevant circumstance’ in 15 determining what percentage of the common fund class counsel should receive as attorneys’ 16 fees.” Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 946 (9th Cir. 2003); see also Dennings v. Clearwire
 17 Corp., No. C10-1859, 2013 WL 1858797, at *7 (W.D. Wash. May 3, 2013); McCoy v. Health
 18 Net, Inc., 569 F.Supp.2d 448, 478 (D.N.J. 2008). Here, the meaningful non-monetary relief 19 obtained for the Class confirms the “reasonableness and propriety” of the requested Fee Award.
 20 In fact, in many instances, classwide injunctive relief alone is sufficient to warrant an award of 21 attorneys’ fees and costs that is equal to, or even in excess of, lodestar. See, e.g., Goldkorn v.
 22 County of San Bernardino, No. EDCV 06-707, 2012 WL 476279 (C.D. Cal. Feb. 13, 2012) 23 (awarding class counsel $690,000 in attorneys’ fees and costs in settlement for injunctive and 24 declaratory relief only, without any monetary award to the class, in action regarding disability 25 access to courthouses in San Bernardino County); Wehlage v. Evergreen at Arvin LLC, No. 4:10-

27 ⁴

28 Unless otherwise noted, citations are omitted and emphasis is added.

1 cv-05839-CW, 2012 WL 4755371 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 4, 2012) (awarding $1,835,857.82 in 2 attorneys' fees to class counsel for class-wide injunctive relief settlement regarding staffing at 3 skilled nursing facilities, with no monetary award to the class). Here, after obtaining significant 4 monetary and injunctive relief, Class Counsel seek a fee award that is less than lodestar, an 5 award that is patently reasonable.

6 3. A Fee Equaling Slightly Over 25% of the Claim Fund Created Is Reasonable

7 In Paul, Johnson, the Ninth Circuit established 25% of the fund as the "benchmark" 8 award for attorneys' fees. 886 F.2d at 272; see also Torrisi, 8 F.3d at 1376 (reaffirming 25% 9 benchmark); Powers v. Eichen, 229 F.3d 1249, 1256 (9th Cir. 2000) (same). However, the 10 guiding principle in this Circuit is that a fee award be ““reasonable under the circumstances.”” 11 WPPSS, 19 F.3d at 1295 n.2. Here, a fee award slightly in excess of the 25% benchmark is 12 reasonable for a number of reasons. Given the value of the injunctive relief to the Class, 13 injunctive relief that was the principal relief sought in the case, the additional 2.7% of the 14 monetary relief is reasonable. Moreover, the contingent-fee risk, the number of hours dedicated 15 to this case, and the financial commitment of Class Counsel, all justify an award of 28% of the 16 monetary recovery.

17 C. Consideration of the Relevant Factors Used by Courts in the Ninth Circuit Justifies a Fee Award of One-Third in This Case

19 Class Counsel submit that, as the factors discussed below demonstrate, the Fee Award is 20 reasonable under the circumstances of this case and should be approved.

21 1. The Result Achieved

22 Courts have consistently recognized that the result achieved is an important factor to be 23 considered in making a fee award. Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 436 (1983) (“most 24 critical factor is the degree of success obtained”); In re King Res. Co. Sec. Litig., 420 F. Supp.
 25 610, 630 (D. Colo. 1976) (“the amount of the recovery, and end result achieved are of primary 26 importance, for these are the true benefit to the client”); Behrens v. Wometco Enters., Inc., 118 27 F.R.D. 534, 547-48 (S.D. Fla. 1988), aff'd, 899 F.2d 21 (11th Cir. 1990) (“The quality of work 28 performed in a case that settles before trial is best measured by the benefit obtained.”).

1 Class Counsel negotiated a $1.3 million Settlement for Class Members, which is a 2 certain, present return for the Class. Class Members can submit a claim for $1 or $2 per Product 3 purchased during the Class Period, which represents a substantial proportion -- between 30% and 4 75% -- of the estimated damages. Settlement at ¶¶ III.B. 1-3; Todzo Decl., ¶15. The Settlement 5 also provides up to $500,000 for attorneys' fees and expenses awarded by the Court, which will 6 not diminish the Claim Fund. Moreover, the injunctive relief obtained will benefit each and 7 every Class Member through the corrective labeling, regardless of whether the Class Member 8 submits a claim. See Settlement at ¶ III.A.1. Given the inherent litigation risks in this putative 9 nationwide class action, the Settlement is highly significant as it provides tangible benefits 10 without the risks and delays of continued litigation. Thus, it is clear that Class Counsel delivered 11 a significant benefit to Neutrogena consumers nationwide.

12 As of July 17, 2013, over 10,000 claims have been submitted and only a single request 13 for exclusion has been received. See Todzo Decl., Exhibit 3. There are no objections to the 14 Settlement or the Fee Award. This de minimis number of requests for exclusion indicates a 15 highly positive response to the Settlement.⁵ See In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec. Litig., 213 F.3d 454, 16 459 (9th Cir. 2000). The lack of any meaningful negative response to the Settlement evinces the 17 quality and value of the Settlement. Class Counsel will provide a final tally of the exclusions 18 and objections, and respond fully to their substance. The data to date, however, reflects 19 overwhelming support from the Class. Class Counsel, accordingly, should be appropriately 20 rewarded for their achievement.

2. The Risks of Litigation

22 Numerous cases have recognized that risk is an important factor in determining a fair fee 23 award. See, e.g., WPPSS, 19 F.3d at 1299-1301; Lindy Bros. Builders Inc. of Philadelphia v.
24 Am. Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp., 540 F.2d 102, 117 (3d Cir. 1976). Uncertainty that an 27 ⁵ The deadline for submitting requests for exclusion and filing objections to the Settlement was July 5, 2013.

1 ultimate recovery would be obtained is highly relevant in determining risk. WPPSS, 19 F.3d at 2 1300; Lindy, 540 F.2d at 117. As the court aptly observed in King Resources:

3 The litigation also involved unique and substantial issues of law in the 4 technical area of SEC Rule 10b-5, . . . difficult, complex and oft-disputed class action questions, and difficult questions regarding computation of damages.

5 * * *

6 In evaluating the services rendered in this case, appropriate consideration 7 must be given to the risks assumed by plaintiffs' counsel in undertaking the litigation. The prospects of success were by no means certain at the outset, and indeed, the chances of success were highly speculative and problematical.

8 420 F. Supp. at 632, 636-37; see also In re Heritage Bond Litig. v. U.S. Trust Co. of Tex., N.A., 9 No. 02-ML-1475, 2005 WL 1594389, at *14 (C.D. Cal. June 10, 2005) ("The risks assumed by 10 Class Counsel, particularly the risk of non-payment or reimbursement of expenses, is a factor in 11 determining counsel's proper fee award.").

12 a. Without This Settlement, Class Counsel Would 13 Encounter Time-Consuming, Lengthy Litigation

14 Here, substantial risks and uncertainties were present from the outset of this litigation that 15 made it far from certain that any recovery for the Class would be obtained. As a complex 16 consumer class action on behalf of a putative nationwide class, this case would entail hard-17 fought and lengthy litigation. This case has been pending for approximately 18 months. If 18 litigation were to continue, additional party and non-party discovery would be sought, requiring 19 time-consuming review. The case also would require extensive expert analysis of the 20 composition of the Products, as well as the consumer impact of Defendant's representations 21 regarding the Product's purported attributes. The case likely would shape up to be a battle of the 22 experts, and thus, expert expenses would be substantial. As a putative nationwide class action, 23 complex legal and factual issues would be the subject of pretrial motions, including for class 24 certification. The class certification decision likely would lead to the inevitable Rule 23(f) 25 interlocutory appeal, potentially delaying prosecution of the case should a stay pending appeal be 26 granted. Given the prospect of protracted litigation, engendering enormous time and monetary 27 expenditure, this factor weighs in favor of Plaintiffs' and Class Counsel's application. While 28 Class Counsel remain confident they could prevail, this presented an additional risk of litigation

1 that could have terminate the litigation at summary judgment.

2 b. Class Counsel Undertook the Risk of Non-Payment

3 Class Counsel undertook this action on an entirely contingent-fee basis, assuming a 4 substantial risk that the litigation would yield no, or very little, recovery and leave them 5 uncompensated for their time, as well as for their substantial out-of-pocket expenses. Courts 6 across the country have consistently recognized that the risk of receiving little or no recovery is a 7 major factor in considering an award of attorneys' fees. See, e.g., In re Warner Communications
8 Sec. Litig., 618 F. Supp. 735, 747-49 (S.D.N.Y. 1985). As one court stated:

9 Counsel's contingent fee risk is an important factor in determining 10 the fee award. Success is never guaranteed and counsel faced 11 serious risks since both trial and judicial review are unpredictable.
12 Counsel advanced all of the costs of litigation, a not insubstantial 13 amount, and bore the additional risk of unsuccessful prosecution.

12 In re Prudential-Bache Energy Income P'ships Sec. Litig., No. 888, 1994 WL 202394, at *6 13 (E.D. La. May 18, 1994).

14 Despite the litigation risks, Class Counsel were able to forge a resolution that provides 15 significant present relief to the Class, including substantial monetary recovery. Thus, there is 16 little doubt that Class Counsel undertook a significant risk here and the Fee Award, respectfully, 17 should reflect that risk

18 In light of the forgoing, it cannot be disputed that Class Counsel undertook a risky 19 proposition when they accepted this case on a contingency basis. Likewise, there is no question 20 that if this case had not settled, Class Counsel faced the substantial risk of many more years of 21 litigation with no guarantee of any compensation. Accordingly, this factor strongly supports the 22 requested fee.

23 3. The Skill Required and the Quality of the Work

24 The successful prosecution of these complex claims required the participation of highly 25 skilled and specialized attorneys. See Heritage Bond, 2005 WL 1594389, at *12 ("The 26 experience of counsel is also a factor in determining the appropriate fee award."). From the 27 outset, Class Counsel engaged in a significant effort to obtain the maximum recovery for the 28

1 Class. Class Counsel demonstrated that they would work to develop sufficient evidence to 2 support a convincing case.

3 Class Counsel were able to negotiate a settlement they believe is fair under all the 4 circumstances. The skill demonstrated by Class Counsel supports the requested fee. See, e.g., 5 J.N. Futia Co. v. Phelps Dodge Indus., Inc., No. 78 Civ. 4547, 1982 WL 1892 (S.D.N.Y. Sept.
6 17, 1982). The quality of opposing counsel is also important in evaluating the quality of the 7 work done by Plaintiffs' Counsel. See, e.g., In re Equity Funding Corp. of Am. Sec. Litig., 438 8 F. Supp. 1303, 1337 (C.D. Cal. 1977); King Res., 420 F. Supp. at 634; Arenson v. Bd. of Trade of 9 City of Chicago, 372 F. Supp. 1349, 1354 (N.D. Ill. 1974). Class Counsel were opposed in this 10 litigation by counsel from a large international law firm with a well-deserved reputation for 11 vigorous advocacy on behalf of its clients. Defense counsel challenged virtually every aspect of 12 the case. It simply cannot be disputed that this factor weighs in favor of the requested fee.

4. The Novelty and Difficulty of the Questions Presented

The novelty and difficulty of the issues in a case are significant factors to be considered in making a fee award. See, e.g., Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 142 F. Supp. 2d 1299, 1306 (W.D. Wash. 2001); Johnson v. Ga. Highway Express, Inc., 488 F.2d 714 (5th Cir. 1974). This case was novel and difficult. The issue in this case concerned the marketing of cosmetic and personal care Products containing various artificial and synthetic ingredients with suggestive, but not necessarily explicit, claims that the Products are Natural. As this Court has recognized, there is no established statutory or regulatory definition of what constitutes a natural cosmetic or personal care product. Moreover, the statements challenged appeared in a variety of media, including on the Product's label, website, and in print, all of which included different variations and combinations of phrases so that Plaintiffs were tasked with the particularly difficult challenge of demonstrating a common message or theme.

For these reasons, this factor weighs in favor of the requested Fee Award.

5. The Contingent Nature of the Fee and the Financial Burden Carried by Class Counsel

A determination of a fair fee must include consideration of the contingent nature of the 1 fee. It is an established practice in the private legal market to reward attorneys for taking the risk 2 of non-payment by paying them a premium over their normal hourly rates for winning 3 contingency cases. See Richard A. Posner, ECONOMIC ANALYSIS OF LAW §21.9, at 534-35 (3d

 4 ed. 1986). Contingent fees that may far exceed the market value of the services if rendered on a 5 non-contingent basis are accepted in the legal profession as a legitimate way of assuring 6 competent representation for plaintiffs who could not afford to pay on an hourly basis regardless 7 of whether they win or lose. WPPSS, 19 F.3d at 1299.

8 Courts have consistently recognized that the risk of receiving little or no recovery is a 9 major factor in considering an award of attorneys' fees. For example, in awarding counsel's 10 attorneys' fees in Prudential-Bache Energy Income P'ships Sec. Litig., the court noted the risks 11 that plaintiffs' counsel had taken:

12 Although today it might appear that risk was not great based on Prudential 13 Securities' global settlement with the Securities and Exchange Commission, such 14 was not the case when the action was commenced and throughout most of the 15 litigation. Counsel's contingent fee risk is an important factor in determining the 16 fee award. Success is never guaranteed and counsel faced serious risks since both 17 trial and judicial review are unpredictable. Counsel advanced all of the costs of 18 litigation, a not insubstantial amount, and bore the additional risk of unsuccessful 19 prosecution.

20 Prudential-Bache Energy Income P'ships Sec. Litig., 1994 WL 202394, at *6.

21 These risks are not illusory. There are numerous class actions in which plaintiffs' 22 counsel expended thousands of hours, and yet received no remuneration whatsoever despite their 23 diligence and expertise. In fact, even when a plaintiff is successful at trial, payment is not 24 guaranteed. See In re BankAtlantic Bancorp, Inc. Sec. Litig., No. 07-61542-Civ., 2011 WL 25 1585605 (S.D. Fla. Apr. 25, 2011) (granting judgment as a matter of law for defendants after 26 jury returned verdict for plaintiffs).

27 The risks in this case were no different. Because the fee in this matter was entirely 28 contingent, the only certainty was that there would be no fee without a successful result and that such a result would only be realized after significant amounts of time, effort and expense had been expended. Indeed, Class Counsel have received no compensation for their efforts during the course of this litigation. Absent this settlement, there was a sizeable risk that at the end of

1 the day Class Members, as well as their counsel, would obtain no recovery. Counsel for the 2 Plaintiffs have risked non-payment of $18,083.25 in expenses and over $501,579 in attorney 3 time expended on this matter, knowing that if their efforts were not successful, no fee would be 4 paid and that they would not recoup their expenses. Accordingly, this factor plainly supports the 5 requested fee award.

6. The Fee Award Is Consistent with Fee Awards in Similar 7 Complex Class Action Litigations

- 8 The fee requested is, consistent with the fees awarded in other class actions:
- 9 • In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec. Litig., 213 F.3d 454 (9th Cir. 2000) (upholding award of 10 33.3% of $1.725 million settlement);
 - 11 • Smith v. Qwest Communications Co., LLC, No. 11 Civ. 2599, 2013 WL 3200592, at *3 (N.D. Cal. June 24, 2013) (granting fee and expense award equaling 28.68% of the common fund);
 - 12 • Johnson v. General Mills, Inc., No. 10 Civ. 00061, 2013 WL 3213832, at *6 (C.D.
 13 Cal. June 17, 2013) (awarding 30% of the total settlement fund as fees in a consumer class action);
 - 14 • Smith v. Cardinal Logistics Mgmt. Corp., No. 07-2104, 2011 WL 3667462, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Aug 22, 2011) (awarding fees equaling 28% of a common fund);

15 The fees paid in these comparable cases support the 28% Fee Award requested, which is 16 clearly within the range of approvable fees and costs in this Circuit.

7. The Customary Fee

17 Circuit courts and scholars have encouraged the “mimic the market” approach in setting 18 fees in common fund class action cases. See Matter of Cont'l Ill.Sec. Litigl, 962 F.2d 566, 568 19 (7th Cir. 1992) (“[I]t is not the function of judges in fee litigation to determine the equivalent of 20 the medieval just price. It is to determine what the lawyer would receive if he were selling his 21 services in the market rather than being paid by court order.”); In re Synthroid Mktg. Litig., 264 22 F.3d 712, 718 (7th Cir. 2001) (“[W]hen deciding on appropriate fee levels in common-fund 23 cases, courts must do their best to award counsel the market price for legal services, in light of 24 the risk of nonpayment and the normal rate of compensation in the market at the time.”); In re 25 Synthroid Mktg. Litig., 325 F.3d 974, 975 (7th Cir. 2003) (“A court must give counsel the market 26 rate for legal services.”). Thus, courts often look at fees awarded in comparable cases to 27 28

1 determine if the fee requested is reasonable. Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1050 n.4.

2 If this were a non-representative litigation, the customary fee arrangement would be 3 contingent, on a percentage basis, and in the range of 30% to 40% of the recovery. Blum, 465
 4 U.S. at 904 (“In tort suits, an attorney might receive one-third of whatever amount the plaintiff
 5 recovers.”) (concurring); In re M.D.C. Holdings Sec. Litig., No. CV 89-0090, 1990 WL 454747, 6 at *7 (S.D. Cal. Aug. 30, 1990) (“In private contingent litigation, fee contracts have traditionally 7 ranged between 30% and 40% of the total recovery.”); *In re Ikon Office Solutions, Inc. Sec.
 8 Litig.*, 194 F.R.D. 166, 194 (E.D. Pa. 2000) (same). Accordingly, the customary contingent fee 9 in the private marketplace supports a finding that the one-third fee request in this case is fair and 10 reasonable.⁶

11 8. Reaction of the Class Supports Approval of the Attorneys' 12 Fees Requested

13 A dedicated website, <http://www.facialcleansersettlement.com/>, was also created, and all 14 relevant documents and dates were posted thereon. See Todzo Decl., Exhibit 3.

15 To date, no objections to the requested amount of attorneys' fees and expenses have been 16 received. The Third Circuit has noted that a low level of objections is a “rare phenomenon.” In 17 re Rite Aid Corp. Sec. Litig., 396 F.3d 294, 305 (3d Cir. 2005). Moreover, as this Circuit has 18 held, a small number of objections do not stand in the way of approval of a reasonable fee. See 19 Mego Fin., 213 F.3d at 459. The reaction of the Class, therefore, weighs heavily in favor of 20 approving the fee request.

21 ⁶ Professor Conte acknowledged the propriety of adequately compensating counsel 22 based on the result obtained in common fund cases:

23 [C]ourts have been careful to award a fully compensable reasonable fee based on 24 the underlying economic inducement for class action lawyers to pursue potentially 25 expensive or complex common-fund class litigation. These lawyers assume the 26 risk of no compensation unless they successfully confer common-fund benefits on 27 the class, based on their reasonable expectation that they will share in the 28 recovery in a fair proportion, in contrast to receiving a fee based initially on time-expended criteria that fail to give the results-obtained factor primary consideration.

29 1 Alba Conte, ATTORNEY FEE AWARDS §1.09, at 27 (3d ed. 2004).

1 IV. THE REQUESTED FEE IS MORE THAN REASONABLE UNDER A
 2 LODESTAR CROSS-CHECK

3 The first step in applying the lodestar cross-check is to determine the dollar value of the 4 proposed percentage fee award. Here, Class Counsel request a total fee and cost reimbursement 5 of $500,000. The next step requires the Court to ascertain the lodestar figure by multiplying the 6 number of hours worked by the hourly rate of counsel. The Court can then determine an implied 7 multiplier that may be assessed for reasonableness by taking into account the contingent nature 8 and risks of the litigation, the results obtained, and the nature of and quality of the services 9 rendered by plaintiffs' counsel. See, e.g., Hensley, 461 U.S. 424. In so doing, “courts have 10 routinely enhanced the lodestar to reflect the risk of non-payment in common fund cases.” 11 Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051.

12 Here, the cumulative number of hours expended by Class Counsel is 963.7, and the 13 resulting lodestar for the services performed is $501,579. See Todzo Decl. at ¶¶22, Exhibit 6; 14 Scott Decl. at ¶3. The requested fee is less than the lodestar. A multiplier of less than one 15 demonstrates that the requested fee is within the range of reasonableness, because it is common 16 for courts to enhance the lodestar in complex litigation by multipliers of between 3.0 and 4.5, 17 and many courts have awarded higher multipliers. See, e.g., In re Sumitomo Copper Litig., 74 F.
 18 Supp. 2d 393, 399 (S.D.N.Y. 1999) (“In recent years multipliers of between 3 and 4.5 have been 19 common’ in federal securities cases.”); Rabin v. Concord Assets Group, No. 89 Civ 6130, 1991 20 WL 275757, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 19, 1991) (multipliers between 3 and 4.5 have been common 21 in recent years); Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051 (finding multipliers ranged as high as 19.6, though 22 most run from 1.0 to 4.0); Roberts v. Texaco, Inc., 979 F. Supp. 185, 198 (S.D.N.Y. 1997) 23 (awarding multiplier of 5.5); Keith v. Volpe, 501 F. Supp. 403, 414 (C.D. Cal. 1980) (multiplier 24 of 3.5). Consequently, the attorneys’ fees sought are plainly reasonable using a lodestar cross-25 check.

26 V. COUNSEL’S EXPENSES ARE REASONABLE AND WERE 27 NECESSARILY INCURRED TO ACHIEVE THE BENEFIT OBTAINED

28 In addition to an award of attorneys’ fees, attorneys who create a common fund for the

1 benefit of a class are also entitled to payment of reasonable litigation expenses and costs from 2 Neutrogena. Synthroid, 264 F.3d at 722; Cont'l Ill., 962 F.2d at 570. Class Counsel in this case 3 have incurred expenses in the aggregate amount of $18,083.25 while prosecuting the action, and 4 these expenses are set forth in the Todzo Decl. at ¶¶22, Exhibit 6; Scott Decl. at ¶3.

5 The appropriate analysis to apply in deciding which expenses are compensable in a 6 common fund case of this type is whether the particular costs are of the type typically billed by 7 attorneys to paying clients in the marketplace. Harris v. Marhoefer, 24 F.3d 16, 19 (9th Cir.
 8 1994) (“Harris may recover as part of the award of attorney’s fees those out-of-pocket expenses 9 that ‘would normally be charged to a fee paying client.’”); see also In re Media Vision Tech. Sec.
 10 Litig., 913 F. Supp. 1362, 1366 (N.D. Cal. 1996). Therefore, it is proper to reimburse reasonable 11 expenses even though they are greater than taxable costs. Id.; see also Bratcher v. Bray-Doyle
 12 Indep. Sch. Dist. No. 42 of Stephens County, Okla., 8 F.3d 722, 725-26 (10th Cir. 1993)
 13 (expenses reimbursable if they would normally be billed to client); Abrams v. Lightolier Inc., 50 14 F.3d 1204, 1225 (3d Cir. 1995) (expenses recoverable if customary to bill clients for them); 15 Miltland Raleigh-Durham v. Myers, 840 F. Supp. 235, 239 (S.D.N.Y. 1993) (“Attorneys may be 16 compensated for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred and customarily charged to their 17 clients, as long as they ‘were incidental and necessary to the representation’ of those clients.”).
 18 The categories of expenses for which Class Counsel seek reimbursement are the type of expenses 19 routinely charged to hourly paying clients and should, therefore, be reimbursed, here, from 20 Defendant.

21 Among other things, Class Counsel incurred costs while performing computerized 22 research. These are the charges for computerized factual and legal research services such as 23 LexisNexis and Westlaw. It is standard practice for attorneys to use LexisNexis and Westlaw to 24 assist them in researching legal and factual issues and reimbursement is proper. See Media
 25 Vision, 913 F. Supp. at 1371; In re Am. Bus. Fin. Servs. Inc. Noteholders Litig., No. 05-232, 26 2008 WL 4974782 (E.D. Pa. Nov. 21, 2008) (online legal research reimbursable); New England
 27 Health Care Employees Pension Fund v. Fruit of the Loom, 234 F.R.D. 627 (W.D. Ky. 2006)
 28 (electronic database and computer research charges are reimbursable). Indeed, courts recognize 1 that these tools create efficiencies in litigation and, ultimately, save clients and the class money.

 2 See Cont'l Ill., 962 F.2d at 570. In approving expenses for computerized research, the court in 3 Gottlieb v. Wiles, 150 F.R.D. 174, 186 (D. Colo. 1993), rev'd and remanded on other grounds
 4 sub nom. Gottlieb v. Barry, 43 F.3d 474 (10th Cir. 1994), underscored the time-saving attributes
 5 of computerized research as a reason reimbursement should be encouraged. The court also noted 6 that fee-paying clients reimburse counsel for computerized legal and factual research. Wiles, 150 7 F.R.D. 174.

8 In addition, Class Counsel were required to travel in connection with this case. The 9 expenses in this category are reasonable in amount, and are properly charged against the fund 10 created. See Thornberry v. Delta Air Lines, Inc., 676 F.2d 1240, 1244 (9th Cir. 1982), cert.
 11 granted, judgment vacated, 461 U.S. 952 (1983); In re McDonnell Douglas Equip. Leasing Sec.
 12 Litig., 842 F. Supp. 733, 746 (S.D.N.Y. 1994); Genden v. Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner &

13 Smith, Inc., 741 F. Supp. 84, 86 (S.D.N.Y. 1990).

14 Because these expenses were all necessarily incurred by Class Counsel in the course of 15 prosecuting this action, they should be paid from the Settlement Fund.

16 VI. THE COURT SHOULD APPROVE THE PAYMENT OF INCENTIVE 17 AWARDS TO THE CLASS REPRESENTATIVES AS PROVIDED FOR IN 18 THE SETTLEMENT

19 Incentive awards for class representatives promote the public policy of encouraging 20 individuals to undertake the responsibility of representative lawsuits. The efforts of the Class 21 Representatives in this case – Desiree Stephenson, Marni Haber, and Karva Tam – were 22 instrumental in achieving the Settlement on behalf of the Class and justify the awards requested 23 here. The Class Representatives came forward to prosecute this litigation for the benefit of the 24 Class as a whole. These Class Representatives sought successfully to remedy a widespread 25 wrong and have conferred valuable benefits upon their fellow Class Members. The Class 26 Representatives provided a valuable service to the Class by: (1) providing information and input 27 in connection with the drafting of the complaints; (2) overseeing the prosecution of the litigation; 28 (3) consulting with Class Counsel; and (4) offering advice and direction at critical junctures, including the Settlement of the litigation. A $1,000 incentive award for Plaintiff Stephenson and

1 $500 each for Plaintiffs Haber and Tam in recognition of their services to the Class is modest 2 under the circumstances, and well in line with awards approved by federal courts in California
 3 and elsewhere. Barbosa v. Cargill Meat Solutions Corp., No. 1:11-cv-00275, 2013 WL
 4 3340939 (E.D. Cal. July 2, 2013) (“Courts routinely approve incentive awards to compensate 5 named plaintiffs for the services they provide and the risks they incurred during the course of the 6 class action litigation.”); see also McGee v. Continental Tire N. Am., Inc., Civ. No. 06-6234, 7 2009 WL 539893, at *18 (D.N.J. Mar. 4, 2009) (quoting In re Lorazepam & Clorazepate 8 Antitrust Litig., 205 F.R.D. 369, 400 (D.D.C. 2002)) (“Incentive awards are ‘not uncommon in 9 class action litigation and particularly where ... a common fund has been created for the benefit 10 of the entire class.’”); In re American Investors Life Ins. Co. Annuity Mktg. and Sales Practices 11 Litig., 263 F.R.D. 226, 245 (E.D. Pa. 2009) (awarding 10 representative plaintiffs incentive 12 payments in the amounts of $10,500 each and 2 representative plaintiffs $5,000 each, for a total 13 of $115,000, finding those amounts to be “reasonable compensation considering the extent of the 14 named plaintiffs’ involvement and the sacrifice of their anonymity”); Bezio v. Gen. Elec. Co., 15 655 F. Supp. 2d 162, 168 (N.D.N.Y. 2009) (incentive awards in the amount of $5,000 each are 16 “within the range of awards found acceptable for class representatives”).

17 Accordingly, Class Counsel respectfully requests that the incentive awards provided for 18 in the Settlement Agreement be approved.

19 VII. CONCLUSION

20 From the beginning, Plaintiffs and Class Counsel were faced with determined adversaries 21 represented by experienced, highly regarded counsel. Without any assurance of success, 22 Plaintiffs and their counsel pursued this litigation to a successful conclusion. Accordingly, we 23 respectfully submit that for the reasons set forth above and in the Declarations, the Court should 24 award Class Counsel’s request for attorneys’ fees and expenses of $500,000. The Court should 25 also grant the requests of Class Representatives for incentive awards in the aggregate amount of 26 $2,000.
